

COBOL's Revenge

HINTS

When you wake up from your sleep, you will find yourself in jail. Talk to our fellow cell mate. If you agree to help him find his son then he will show you a secret door that will allow you to escape your jail cell. Once out of jail, you will need to exit the castle. You will have to lower the drawbridge. The lever to do this is located on ground level in the southeast corner of the castle. As you walk across the draw bridge, head east. near your house. You will find his son. Talk to the son and tell him that his father is alright.

Head back to the drawbridge. You will see a bagger near the drawbridge. Talk to him. If you agree to steal some bread for him, he will tell you about a teleporter located on the roof of the castle. He will also tell you the password so the guard will let you pass. Once up on the castle roof, talk to the guard blocking your way. Tell him the password. He will then move out of your way. Walk on the the teleporter. You will appear on an island. Walk south and step on the other teleporter. Then you will appear on an island. Go talk to the Wizard in the hut.

The Wizard will tell you that he knows a way to defeat Lord Bill, but you need to get his spell book to give you the spell. Head back to the castle. On level 2 is the supply room, the spellbook is in there. The supply room door is locked. Head to the inn. Sitting at one of the tables will be a castle guard. He is quite devious and will sell you the supply room key. If you don't have enough gold, gold can be found in various locations around Ibum. Collect and pay the guard. Once in the supply room, grab the book and head back to the Wizard's hut.

Give the spellbook back to the Wizard. He will tell you, in order to defeat Lord Bill you must yell the Word of Power. Go back to the castle, go to the throne room. Talk to Lord Bill and resite the Word of Power. Before you complete saying the Word, Lord Bill disappears. Talk to the jester, he will tell you that Lord Bill is somewhere under the castle. As you know there are two problems; one, Lord Bill can escape before you complete saying the Word of Power, and two, an energy field blocks you from getting to the stairs that lead down into the castle dungeon. Maybe the Wizard can help.

When you arrive back at the wizard's hut, he will tell you that you must yell out a different word first to freeze Lord Bill from getting away. As for the magic fields, he will tell you to see an energy being living in the forest behind the inn. Once in the Inn, use the secret door on the the north wall to get access to the forest. Follow the path north, then west. You will come across a wisp. Talk to it. He will give you a magic scroll that will help you dispell magic fields. Now you can go down the castle stairs to the dungeon.

In the dungeon there are a number of switches you will need to flick before you can go down another flight of stairs to the lava pit. Once you have made it down to the lava pit and are on the same ledge as Lord Bill, talk to him. Yell the word that will freeze him and then yell the Word of Power. Lord Bill will vanish and you win!
